

Programme Outcomes (POs):

Upon completion of B.Lib.I.Sc students will be able to demonstrate the following professional values and capabilities:

B Lib I Sc

PO1	Service	Providing information services and showing a high level of commitment towards quality services. Familiar with the history, philosophy, and service orientation of libraries, librarianship, and related information environments. Retrieve, evaluate, and synthesize information resources to fulfill an information needs assessment; evaluate the usefulness of these resources to the user.
PO2	Professional Ethics	Craft and articulate a professional identity. Understand and application of the ethical principles for the professional code of conduct. Demonstrate ethical behavior towards knowledge and attitude.
PO3	Organization of Knowledge	Explaining, using, maintaining, and developing information systems to organize and retrieve the various forms of information and knowledge.
PO4	Technological Skills	Organize, create, archive, preserve, retrieve, manage, evaluate, and disseminate information resources in a variety of formats. Understand, Evaluate, and Employ current and emerging information technologies effectively in professional and personal life.
PO5	Administration and Management	Demonstrate necessary managerial skills to work effectively within teams and organizations. Application of management principles dealing with change, needs, and challenges. Students apply management principles and other cross-disciplinary perspectives to develop best practices in library and information agency environments.
PO6	Social responsibility	Exercise and enact the values and principles of the field and its specializations with an awareness of overarching social responsibility associated with progressive public service for the public good