

CERTIFICATE COURSE ON MUSEUM STUDIES

BATCH II

The Centre for Studies in Museology, University of Jammu is going to start an Online Certificate Course on Museum Studies Batch II in collaboration with Kolkata Centre for Creativity. It is for the first time in India that such a comprehensive course is being offered to people who are interested in museum and heritage studies. It is an intensive, immersive, hands-on program that will provide the participants with the knowledge and professional skillset required to run future museums, cultural centres, and archives.

This course is aimed at training both freshers and professionals for their work in various museums, cultural centres, and archives. The course will not only explore the key theoretical frameworks of museology, but also focus on the practical aspects by equipping and enabling participants with the practical knowledge, information, and critical tools required for successfully documenting cultural objects, putting up exhibitions, and conserving cultural properties. Museum management, education, as well as community involvement will also form an important part of this course.

Moreover, this skill-based course will not only create the right environment for the participants to gain useful insights on stimulation, dissemination, and rehabilitation of cultural heritage and museums, but also play a crucial role in enhancing their ability to plan, organize and implement projects as per international standards.
