

Induction programme 2024 organized in the Department of Zoology.

The Department of Zoology organized an induction programme on August 1, 2024, in the seminar hall. The aim of this programme was to welcome the newly enrolled M.Sc. students in the department and introduce them with the available resources and the Faculty. On this occasion, Prof. Seema Langer, Head of the Department, emphasized the importance of academic rigour, research opportunities, and the overall development of students. Her speeches typically highlight the curriculum structure, the available resources, and the support systems in place to help students succeed in their postgraduate studies. These induction programmes are designed to help new students feel welcome and motivated as they embark on their academic journeys. They also serve to inspire students by showcasing the achievements of the university's alumni and the potential career paths available to graduates.

During the induction programme, one of the alumni (Aditi Singhal, M.Sc. Zoology, Batch 2019-2021), a gold medalist and JKAS qualifier, interacted with our new students and shared her experiences regarding academics and narrated the struggle behind her success story. Her presence encouraged and motivated the students who are at the beginning of their journey. The department proudly honoured for her success and wished her good luck ahead. The programme was also attended by all the faculty members, research scholars and students.
